PASTOR'S CORNER

Exodus 20:3, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

The first commandment given to Moses on Mt. Sinai from God unto His people was very simple, yet it is still being broken so often today. The children of Israel had already broken it before Moses even came down from the Mount, as they made and worshipped a golden calf. The Lord God is a jealous God and putting any other god before Him is a sin (Deut. 6:15). I'm afraid we are living in a day where Christians don't even understand what idolatry is. In this age of technological advancements and sports and extracurricular activities, it has become so easy for us to allow something or someone to become a god to us, and we begin to worship that thing or person more than God Himself. The number one television show in America from 2004-2011 (8 straight years) was American Idol. People all over the country were idolizing these singers who would become the next pop stars in the music industry. Christian people were more faithful to watch that show and listen to its worldly music than they were to get to prayer meeting on Wednesday evenings at their churches. This is just one of many examples of how easy we can allow people or things to become gods in our lives, but we must take heed to the first commandment, Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Amen
